Forward

Many ideas go into the formation of a University community. At our campus the Seminary and the College of Liberal Arts are integrally related in the common desire to furnish the University of Dubuque students an opportunity to develop many phases of human activity.

The 1958 KEY represents the whole life of the University of Dubuque community. Segments which add to individual and collective growth are the campus, administration, academic classes, organizations and social groups, activities, and athletics.

The 1958 KEY would like to express a special "thank you" to Mr. Edward Janky, in his last year as campus photographer, for his interest, guidance and cooperation all of which have played such a vital role in the publication of this yearbook.

Mr. Janky has worked with student publications and public relations since coming to the campus in 1954 and has well earned our acknowledgement of his services.

Dedication

The Student Yearbook Staff of the University of Dubuque proudly dedicates the 1958 KEY to Dr. Gaylord M. Couchman, President of the University.

Since coming to the University in 1953, President Couchman has worked unceasingly for the betterment of the school. In an atomic age, when today's inventions are out-of-date tomorrow, when the demands of a frenzied world have forced many to cast aside their ethical standards, Dr. Couchman has consistently attempted to maintain the dignity and the privileges of the individual, in keeping with the best precepts of the Christian Faith.

Campus

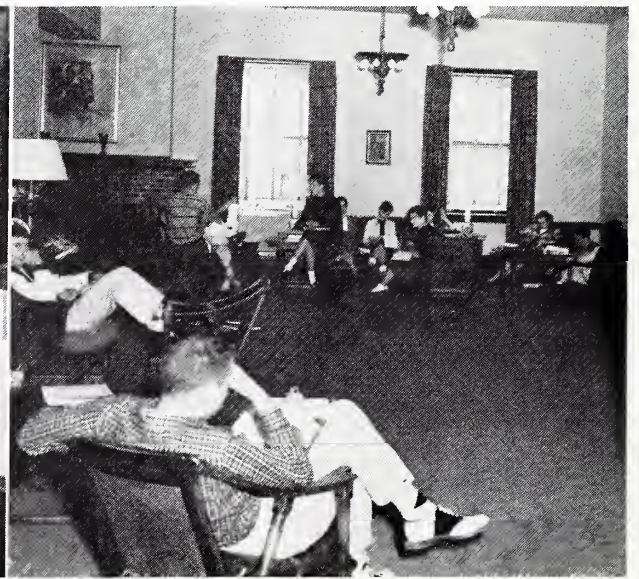

Steffens Hall

Housing the administrative offices, college library, classrooms and the J.C. Lounge, Steffens Hall is naturally the center of most college activity. In Steffens Hall students stop briefly between classes to talk to friends, to check mailboxes, or to get in a bit of last minute studying in the lounge. The rotunda is a favorite meeting place for students during the five-minute break between classes.

Van Vliet Hall

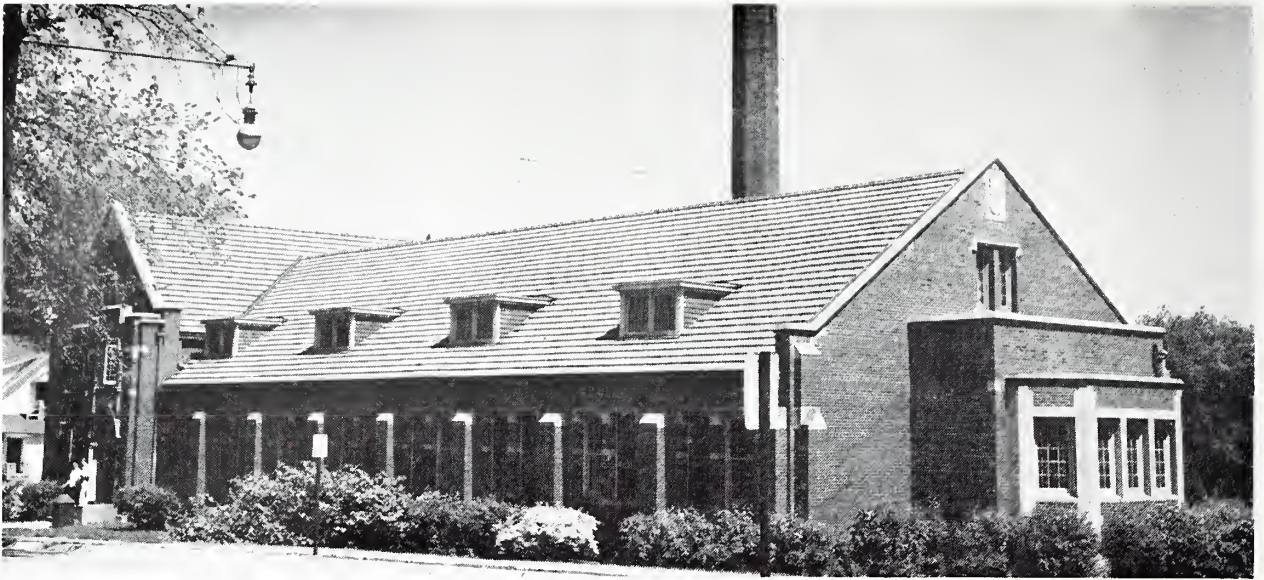

The Seminary has seen much advancement in recent years in the area of buildings. Smith Hall, the newest building on campus, now houses the theological students. Van Vliet Hall contains the Seminary classrooms and administration offices and also houses many men of the undergraduate school.

One of the quietist buildings on campus is the Seminary Library; here, persons gather to study and noise belongs to another realm. During the year many interesting exhibits are presented on the balcony.

Peters Commons

Killing time in the Oak Room

Lunch time in the dining hall

The Commons, containing the main dining hall, is of course the center of attraction during meal time. This building also houses the Campus Lane Theater the home of the Speech Department and its stage productions. Also in the Commons are the radio station, art room and dormitory facilities for a number of University men.

Last but not least, the Commons is the location of the Oak Room. From this snack bar can be heard strains of M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E, and various other voices as the students come in to relax, watch television, and consume calories in the form of sundaes, cokes, and hamburgers.

Pool recreation

McCormick Gymnasium

On the western side of the quadrangle, stands McCormick Gym. Here students meet for the required hours of physical education, and athletes gather to train for basketball, football, track and wrestling.

The pool is open all year for those who enjoy swimming and for those who are learning to enjoy it.

McCormick is also the headquarters for the all-student convocations where speakers and programs are presented.

"Pete's" folk-dancing class

College Chapel

The College Chapel is the scene of many worship services. All college students are required to attend at least one of the four chapel services which are presented each week. Vesper services are traditionally held each Wednesday night for college and seminary students. Many have found that the Chapel is an excellent place for private meditation, too.

Passing the Chapel any day one may hear music, as the organ students practice frequently. Choir rehearsals and recitals are also held in the Chapel. On Wednesday nights the chimes from the chapel tower ring out across the campus before vespers, breaking the silence with their beautiful tones.

Severance Hall

"Home away from home" for most University women is Severance Hall. Here the rooms, usually shared by two, reflect the personalities of the girls within.

Severance is equipped with a main lounge where girls may receive callers and entertain; and a lower lounge, the S.C.A. room, is set up for the same purpose. For the encouragement of scholastic endeavor, a study room equipped with desks and lounging furniture has been provided. On the second floor of both the north and south sections are "chatter" rooms where students relax. Severance also has a small kitchen and dining room where girls may cook and invite guests in to meals.

Plans for a New Science Hall

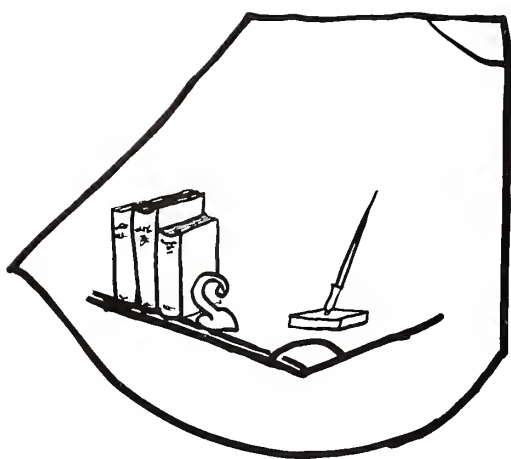

One of the greatest needs of the University of Dubuque campus at the present time is an expansion of the science department. The departments of chemistry, biology, physics, and mathematics require additional space and more adequate facilities. The substantial challenge gift of Mrs. Effie Goldthorpe, matched with an equal amount by the Synod of Iowa, and other monies, either pledged or in escrow, virtually assure the early construction of the new Goldthorpe Science Hall.

Tentative plans include the use of the first floor and part of the second by the chemistry department. The biology department will utilize the remaining rooms of the second floor, and the mathematics and physics departments will be located on the third level. The large lecture rooms and an auditorium will lighten the overcrowded conditions now existing in Steffens Hall.

Administration

President of the University

Dr. and Mrs. Gaylord Couchman are always ready to greet visitors to their home.

Dr. Gaylord Couchman, a man of great friendliness and interest in people, has explained that he accepted the presidency because "I had come to know students. . .who loved the school; and, knowing what they felt, I was helped to form my decision to share in the experience." And great love it must be for him, for he works dynamically seven days a week to increase the stature of the University of Dubuque.

Dr. Couchman's criteria for the church-related school are these: the college must be academically respectable; Christianity should be demonstrated not only in classes of Bible or in compulsory chapel, but in the degree of Christian attitudes developed in the whole community.

Dr. Couchman, who attended Des Moines University and McCormick Theological Seminary. He is a member of the Board of National Missions, the Commission on Evangelism, the Council on Theological Education, and the Special Committee on Consolidations of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

In His Thirty-Seventh Year of Service

Dr. William B. Zuker has served the University of Dubuque since 1921 as Professor of Chemistry and since 1929 as Vice-President. Dr. Zuker is widely known in the scientific world and is listed in both "American Men of Science" and "Who's Who" because of his achievements in science. The University is indeed honored and fortunate to have a man of such caliber remain on its staff through many years.

Although he is a member of the American Chemistry Association, and the NEA, and has served as the President of the northeast area of Boy Scouts from 1942 to 1951, many students know Dr. Zuker best by his hobbies which are photography and mineralogy. Dr. Zuker is also known for his logical thinking and his candor in counseling situations.

After graduating from Des Moines University, Dr. Zuker served as Professor of Chemistry at Highland Park College and Des Moines University. He received the M.S. degree at the University of Chicago in 1921 and has since been with the University of Dubuque.

Dr. Zuker supervises a chemistry experiment.

Executive Committee

President Gaylord M. Couchman is chairman of the Executive Committee, which is appointed by the University Board of Directors to function in the interim between Board meetings.

Since the Board of Directors meets only twice a year — once in the fall and once in the spring before Commencement — the Executive Committee is delegated to study school situations and to make rulings concerning problems that would otherwise be delayed until a meeting of the Executive Board.

Each month, therefore, the Executive Committee meets to examine administrative policies to see that they follow the University aims and objectives. This important group also reviews the monthly financial report of the University.

Vice President

After having served the school in several executive positions, Mr. Gene Siekmann has been appointed as one of the University Vice-Presidents. An alumnus of the College of Liberal Arts and the Theological Seminary, Mr. Siekmann finds that his duties require him to travel throughout the Midwest to promote financial aid for the school through churches, corporations and individuals.

Gene Siekmann

Harry A. Turner

Business Manager

Mr. Harry A. Turner, a graduate of Park College and of McCormick Theological Seminary, came to the University in 1945 first as admissions counselor and later he became director of admissions. Now, serving his fifth year as business manager, he finds budgeting and balancing the finances of the University a familiar duty. The successful operation of the University's program is in great part due to Mr. Turner's efforts.

Dispensing pills, making appointments with doctors, listening to problems, and checking on the ill are only a few of the duties of our school nurses. These girls not only maintain the school health office and infirmary, but also carry a regular course of schoolwork.

Donna and Kay are to be commended for the way they have given unselfishly of their time to help the student body.

Steve Thilmany, fireman

Important factors of any campus are the people who maintain the physical plant of the school. Daily cleaning, polishing, maintaining the heating, lighting and plumbing facilities, and grooming of buildings and grounds are the necessary chores of our unsung heroes.

COOKS: Mrs. Helen Fonck, Mrs. Mary Zemanek, Mrs. Alvana Hill, Mrs. Sophie Schmidt, Mrs. Ursula Kaune.

OAK ROOM ATTENDANTS: Mrs. Janet Weitz and Mrs. Amy Sams.

Serving the students in many ways, the food-staff employees pictured on this page contribute to student welfare and accomplishments.

This staff is well versed in effective ways of preparing large quantities of food and in directing the student help in the kitchen, where the cooks prepare food for the "hungry mob" which stampedes the Commons three times a day.

The Oak Room attendants use their ingenuity to dream up all sorts of concoctions for those in-between-meal snacks.

Of course, order in the library would be impossible without our library staff. Checking out reserve books taking care of the audio-visual equipment, and cataloguing books are a few of the duties of these busy people.

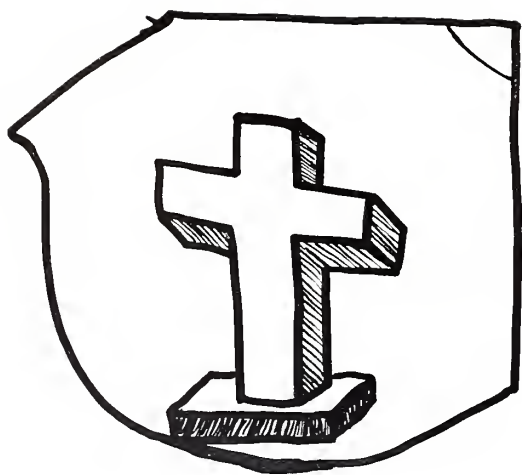

The people we love most when we get "that certain letter" are the post office clerks. Sorting mail, selling stamps and making change keep them in constant contact with the students.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS: Mrs. Charles Tyrrell, Mrs. Fred Messing and Mrs. Calvin Schnucker.

POST OFFICE CLERKS: Mrs. Ed Janky and Mrs. George Yokom.

Miss Margaret Saum, Secretary to the Dean of the Seminary.

Dr. Calvin T. Schnucker has been a member of the Theological Seminary since 1942. Prior to his appointment as Dean of the Seminary, Dr. Schnucker had established the Town and Country program in the Dubuque Seminary. Under his leadership, Dubuque has been a pioneer in this aspect of the Christian ministry. Dr. Schnucker has written several books and pamphlets concerning the work of the Rural Church.

The duties of the Dean are manifold. Dr. Schnucker is not only an able administrator, a professor in the field of Applied Theology, but also counselor and friend to all students.

Last minute details before the choir tour.

The Choir

This year a group of thirty-three men, under the leadership of Warren Hoffman, a senior in the Seminary, has organized a choir. The purpose of this group is to become a channel to aid in furthering the Gospel through Sacred Music. Tuesday through Friday of each week these men met for practice during the lunch hour. Besides several individual concerts, this group spent a week on tour, singing at Rochester, Amboy, Minneapolis, and Reading, Minnesota, as well as Superior and Baldwin, Wisconsin.

On the Field

Field work is an indispensable part of the total training program of the Seminary. This year sixty-eight of the men have been serving churches as student pastors. A typical example is Allen Wirtz, who is serving the Presbyterian Church in Scales Mound, Illinois. A full weekend of activities includes spending time with his family, leading Morning Worship, greeting his congregation, and calling on his people in their homes and at their work.

Training Program

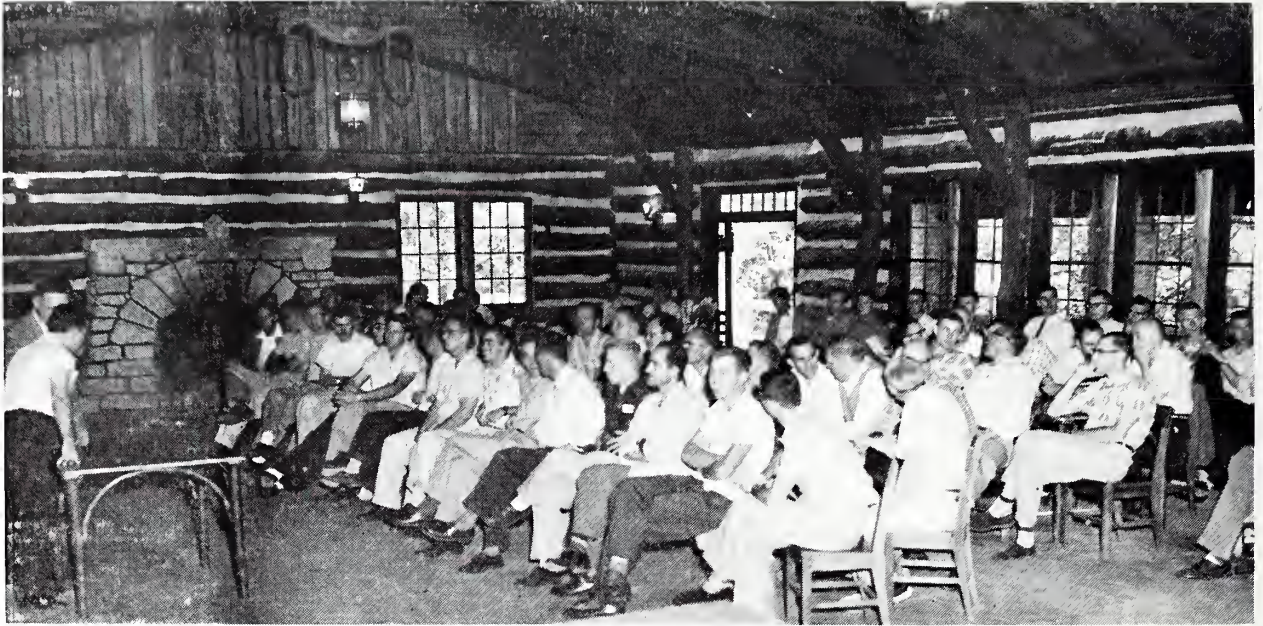

David Schuster is one of the eight men who serve as assistants to pastors of large churches. This means that his energies are channelled into the total Christian Education program of the church. Much of Dave's time is spent in planning the program, helping and guiding the Church School teachers, and working directly with the young people's groups.

Another part of the field education program, carried on by the remaining students, is incidental preaching. Many nearby churches find themselves without a pastor for Sunday Morning Worship services. Incidental preaching helps fill this need.

Seminary Brotherhood

The Fall retreat at Bellevue, Iowa.

The Brotherhood Council — Seated: William Tammen, Kenneth Jansen, Raymond Kruger, Edwin Manning. Standing: Warren Hoffman, William Meyer, Donald Byrd, Gene Straatmeyer, Dean Johnson, Keith Trembath, Laurence Gaither.

The Seminary Brotherhood consists of all students who are regularly enrolled in the Seminary. The purpose of this fellowship is three-fold: to promote the spiritual and devotional life of each seminarian as well as the whole body; to create and maintain a democratic student government in the Seminary; and to promote a concern and interest in the general affairs and policies of the Seminary. These purposes are carried out by the executive council and four main committees appointed by the officers of the fellowship.

Seminary Parsonettes

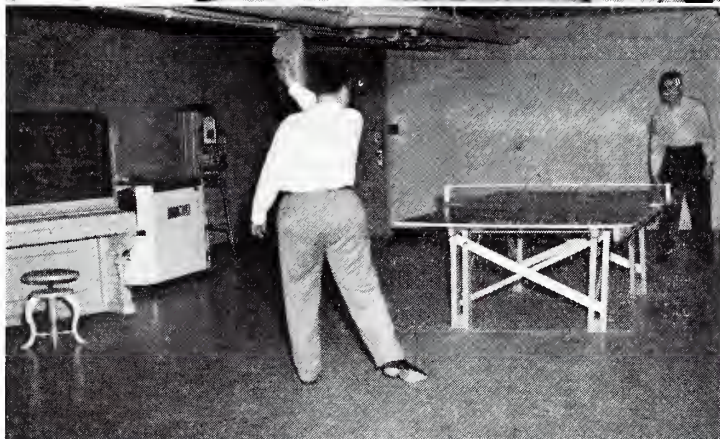

Standing: Jane Jamison, Alice Carlston, Arlys Middents, Francis Keil, Janice Hart, Margaret Muilenburg, Marilee Uhls, Billie Farmer, Barbara Schuster, Betty Bushnell, Patricia Walker, Elizabeth Synder, Marjorie Reynolds, Mima Janky. Seated: Connie Lee, Jean Straatmeyer, Marilyn Meyer, Wilma Petersen, La Vonne Huebner, Helen Bruton, Phyllis Redshaw, Treva Brown.

Parsonettes, an organization made up of the wives of seminary students, was developed for purposes of fellowship, inspiration, and instruction. Evening meetings are held twice a month. Their programs deal with book reviews, study of women's organizations in the church, Christian activities, and Bible studies. Two special days are observed by this group: Orientation and Homecoming in the Fall, and Wives' Day in the Spring when members of the organization attend classes with their husbands.

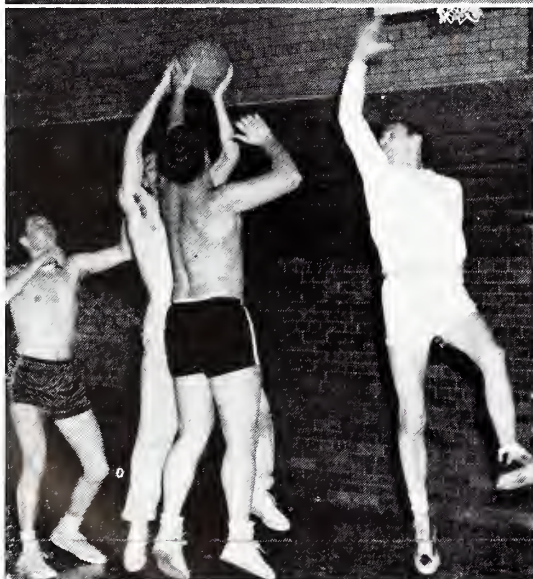

Above: One of the Bible study classes on the Prophets led by Dr. Mibelic. Below: Members of the group spend an evening mending clothing for the Dubuque Babyfold.

There is time for work and time for play

Recreation too, plays a vital role in the daily life of the Seminarian. During the typical week ping-pong in the large recreation room in Smith Hall, basketball, volley-ball, and swimming in McCormick Gym provide relaxation for those who wish to take advantage of it.

Seminary Heights

Seminary Heights, a self-governing residential unit of eighteen cottages, serves as housing for married students. A council, elected each year by current residents of the Heights, meets monthly to consider matters which may affect the community.

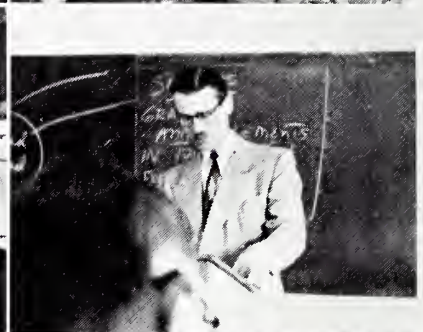

Recent improvements in the Heights have been the installation of a community TV tower and the building of sidewalks. Labor for the latter project was provided by Heights residents.

The Seminary Heights "family," under the direction of the Community Projects Chairman, the Social Chairman and the Spiritual chairman of the Council, work, play and worship together.

College Academics

Leo L. Nussbaum

Dean of the College

As Dean of the College, Dr. Leo L. Nussbaum directs the faculty and the college academic program. He is a willing listener and an able advisor, always ready to help students with problems.

In addition to his administrative work, Dean Nussbaum teaches classes in psychology and education. He is also faculty advisor to Alpha Pi Omega, honorary scholastic fraternity, and serves on college committees.

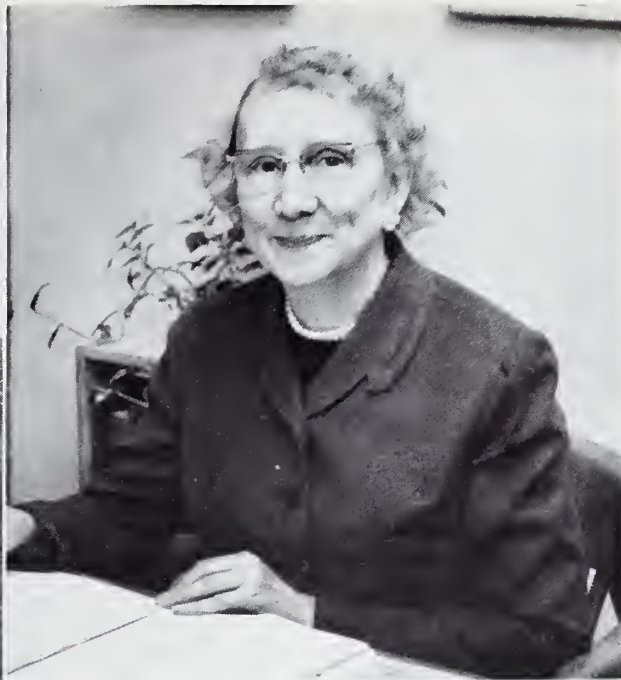

Dean Nussbaum received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Ball State Teachers College and his Ph.D. in Education from Northwestern University. He will be greatly missed next year during his leave of absence to lecture at the University of Mysore, India.

Always interested in the students, Dean Nussbaum stops to talk to Lydia Mihelic in the hall.

Reuben W. Sandven

Mr. Reuben Sandven, who is serving his second year as Dean of Students, has numerous duties on campus in counseling, co-ordinating student activities, testing, and supervising men's dormitories. An Associate Professor of Physiology and Psychology, Dean Sandven has a B.S. degree from Iowa State Teachers College and a M.A. degree from Columbia University. Students have found Mr. Sandven a willing listener to all types of problems.

Grace Allen Boehner

Working to better conditions for women on our campus, Mrs. Grace Allen Boehner is completing her second year as Associate Dean of Students. Also a member of the teaching staff, Mrs. Boehner is an Associate Professor of English with B.S. and M.A. degrees from the University of Missouri. Counseling women students, taking an active part in various campus committees, and advising several campus activities are among the duties in Mrs. Boehner's busy schedule.

Creativity, appreciation, theory, history, and performance or expression these words describe to some extent student work in the division of fine arts and music. It is extremely difficult to put into words the feelings that students have as they express themselves in different forms of art. To achieve the point of artistry, students taking canon and fugue, composition, instrumentation, counterpoint, or hymnology must think creatively. The student who masters these music courses will have broadened his intellectual outlook and will have given himself a new mode of expression.

Courses in art offer another outlet for creative impulses, helping students to appreciate the expressions of other artists, and giving a general background in the history and theory of art.

Objectives of the department of mathematics include accuracy in dealing with mathematical facts, a command and appreciation of mathematics, and an adequate preparation for graduate study or teaching of mathematics.

Atoms, photons, constants, metabolism, genetics, bacteria white mice, line formulas, formaldehyde-pickled cats, chlorine gas, density, electrons, sound, and refraction bring back fond memories to students of science. The departments of physics, mathematics, chemistry, and biology serve not only those persons who plan to go into graduate work but also aid those who desire to learn the scientific approach to various problems. A general knowledge in the sciences helps our erudite bibliophiles to appreciate and understand modern society.

College Division of Philosophy and Religion

Dr. Tyrrell instructs his class in the art of poster making.

The philosophers on campus delve into problems such as: What is life? What is the nature of God? Who is God? What is truth? Students are encouraged to develop a philosophical attitude, to become conscious of their personal philosophies, to study philosophical thought of the past and present in the light of the best available information, and to understand more fully the meaning of Christianity. Students find that their conceptions of philosophy, of themselves, and of religion are different from the conceptions of famous philosophers—Spinoza, Schopenhauer, Plato, Russell, and Locke. It is important for students to question what they believe and to know why they believe as they do.

A general knowledge of the Bible is worth-while for people living in a society which is deeply rooted in traditions found in the Bible.

In the area of Christian education, the University concentrates on courses which fit the student for professional work in Christian education in the Church, in the mission school, and for lay leadership in the Church.

The division of social studies offers the student a way to satisfy his curiosity about man's past and to understand the underlying reasons for what goes on in the world today. Intelligent participation and leadership in American society are objectives of the history department.

The study of economics deals with the underlying principles of the American economic system. Business administration courses are designed to familiarize students with sound business practices. Those persons desiring to be secretaries get the necessary training in courses of secretarial science.

In the study of social structures our scholars come to realize some of the problems that do exist in our world. The responsibility is then theirs to do something about correcting existing evils.

In the division of education and psychology, intelligence, aptitudes, interests, personality, motivation and memory are measured, for study and discussion. Rational, existential, functional, gestalt, dynamic, motor, abnormal, genetic, and applied psychologies keep students busy, and tax their memories as they try to remember the names of mental processes. However, some laws developed and propounded by such people as Hartely, Hume, Mills, Wundt, James, Freud, Menninger, Pavlov, Mesmer, Kraepelin help explain to students the processes of the mind.

Students learn that the application of what is learned is the real test of education. They learn also that a certain amount of native ability coupled with intelligent application and courage is necessary for a well rounded personality. Our scholars are introduced to the workings of the American public school system and to the various methods of teaching which will enable them to be better teachers.

Students taking Spanish, German, French, or Greek meet the challenge of other cultures. One can acquire from reading books some understanding of a culture; but when one learns the language of a particular people, he opens new doors to understanding that particular people, their thinking, and their culture. It is particularly good for Americans to realize that English is not the only language or even the best. Those people going into various fields of graduate work find that knowledge of a foreign language is necessary.

Speech training helps many students to express themselves effectively and to correct speech defects which might be theirs.

In the English department, appreciation of literature and proficiency in the use of the English language are taught. Clarity and conciseness of expression are prerequisites for today's graduating students.

The Student Senate was established to coordinate student activities and to govern student affairs. The Senate directs and plans many of the regular events on campus—such as Homecoming, May Fete and the Leadership Training Seminar. The most important project of this year has been the study and reorganization of the Senate structure.

In order to interest a greater number of students in campus government, five standing committees have been set up with senators as chairmen. Again this year the President's Cabinet has worked with the Senate by advising which business should be brought to the Senate's attention.

It is hoped that these changes will provide for more student participation and consistency in student government.

Alpha Pi Omega, honorary scholastic fraternity, is comprised of students at our University who have 2.1 grade averages and who show qualities of leadership, strength of character, and probability of success.

This year the organization has been working to encourage a greater interest toward attending graduate school. A file of graduate school scholarships is maintained in the reading room for student use.

In February the current members, the Dean of the College, and the Dean of Students selected eleven new members from among the eligible juniors and seniors. These were accepted into Alpha Pi in an initiation service held at the Swiss Valley Chalet.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, the national honorary dramatic fraternity, provides recognition to those students who have presented a high standard of work in the field of college dramatics. Membership in this distinctive fraternity is earned by students who have acquired points by working on stage and makeup crews as well as by acting and directing.

Each year Alpha Psi sponsors the one-act play contest for the four classes and helps with the dramatic productions. New members are welcomed into Alpha Psi at their spring banquet and initiation.

The Student Christian Association is a fellowship of students desiring to promote Christian faith and life on the Dubuque campus. The group was formed in 1949 to unite into one strong body the various religious groups then existing on the campus. Today the basis of its present organization is its five commissions: citizenship, fellowship, witness, faith, and outreach.

The S.C.A. promotes many activities which are of a service nature to the community. Among these activities are sponsoring the Thanksgiving baskets, sending gospel teams to hospitals, homes, and churches, and promoting the annual clothing drive. On our campus this group presents the Wednesday night vesper services, takes part in the Homecoming activities, and conducts an annual fund-raising carnival.

The Iowa Future Teachers Association, established on this campus in 1954 as the IFTA, changed its name in 1957 to the SISEA. Its purpose is to stimulate growth of the highest ideals in professional relations, to study the organization and activities of professional associations, and to foster active cooperation among student groups in the teacher education institutions of the Iowa State Education Association.

SISEA activities of the year included a thanksgiving basket, the annual Christmas party, interviews with prospective teachers, and the sending of delegates to the state convention at Des Moines in February. The year was concluded with a picnic at Eagle Point Park.

Steffens Dormitory Proctors

Working under the head resident and the Dean of Students, the proctors in Steffens Hall hold the difficult job of trying to maintain order in the mens' dormitory. Duties are varied for these students as they must see that their floor observes quiet hours and serve as counselors.

This year, a Judiciary Committee has been set up to rule on disciplinary problems occurring in the dormitory. This committee is composed of the proctors, the head resident and four men of the dormitory.

The Severance Hall House Council is the governing body of the women's residence hall. This group meets to consider problems arising in regard to life in the dormitories and about the campus.

A Judicial Committee, selected from the house council, handles disciplinary problems.

In November the Council sponsored a successful open house. For this party the theme, carried through with much planning and ingenuity, was Around the World. Another social event on the dormitory calendar was the annual Christmas slumber party.

D Club

The D Club is composed of the outstanding athletes at the University who have lettered in sports. Its purpose is to encourage and promote interest in sportsmanship, honor, and the welfare of athletes.

Again this year the D Club sponsored the annual Homecoming dance and worked in conjunction with the football team in selecting and presenting the Homecoming queen and her attendants.

Another major task of the D Club is to solicit advertising for the football and basketball programs and to sell these programs at the games.

The last undertaking of the Club each year is to present athletic awards to the outstanding freshmen and senior athletes. D Club jackets are also then awarded to the eligible members and University of Dubuque blankets are given to the various team captains.

The Spartan Club assumes much responsibility on our campus as it tries to promote enthusiasm and student participation in all campus activities. This group, organized as a pep club, encourages clean sportsmanship, school spirit and loyalty to the University of Dubuque athletic teams.

During this year the Spartan Club has sponsored several pep rallies with the cooperation of the cheerleaders, given send-offs to teams playing away from Dubuque, and arranged for student transportation to off-campus athletic events.

Phi Alpha Theta

Now in its fifth year of organization Phi Alpha Theta, the national honorary history fraternity, has become a well-known group on our campus. This fraternity, a national scholastic honorary group at Dubuque, was founded here to recognize excellence in the study of history.

This year the Delta Tau Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta received four new members. Qualifications for membership are high, but this group continues to try to raise the level of academic work in its particular area of concern.

Phi Alpha Theta holds monthly meetings which gives time for individual member's reports, visiting points of historical interest, and for discussions led by professors. This year the organization held a banquet at Bunker Hill after the initiation of the four new members.

Omicron Mu

One of the organizations on our campus affiliated with both state and national associations is the Omicron Mu Sorority. This group was organized on the Dubuque campus in 1940 for the purpose of furthering both the social and educational aspects of homemaking.

Throughout the year the girls plan activities to practice their skill in the art of homemaking. The highlight of their activities this year was the presentation of the Sweetheart Swirl, the annual Valentine dance. Following the girl-ask-boy-tradition, this formal social event took place in Peters Commons in February.

Iota Chi Sigma finishes another busy year as the group completes activities which have been of service both to our campus and to the Dubuque community. This organization is instrumental in encouraging Christian fellowship in service, study, and worship among women who are committed to or interested in church vocations.

Opening the year Iota Chi held a picnic for the members and planned for Homecoming. At Christmas time they made favors for the trays at Finley Hospital and clothed a family of ten. As a service to the local churches Iota Chi has continued its workshop to study Japan.

Taking part in other campus activities, the girls sponsored a square dance in January, held their formal banquet in February, and finished out the year with Flunk Weekend.

A comparatively new organization on our campus, the Young Republicans Club has been instrumental in bringing various outstanding political leaders to our campus both in election and non-election years. This club provides opportunities to educate members in Republican policies, to discuss current political issues, and to aid young people in developing political expression and recognition.

University Society for International Cooperation

The group on our campus made up of many well-traveled students is the University Society for International Cooperation. This group was organized in November, 1956 to promote international friendship and understanding on the campus of the University of Dubuque.

As the activities of this international relations organization are both social and educational, many of the members have given interesting lectures about their home countries or countries which they have visited.

Interested in conferences with other schools, representatives of this group have attended a U.N. meeting at Madison, Wisconsin and the World Affairs Council in Michigan. In February a large number of the members traveled to Des Moines for International Weekend.

Orchestra

University Orchestra members share a joke. Could it be they have hit a wrong note?

Composed of University students, faculty, townspeople, and out-of-town musicians, the Orchestra has presented three concerts this year under the direction of Dr. Parviz Mahmoud.

Among the works presented have been those by Mendelssohn, Wagner, Dvorak, Beethoven, Schumann, and Mussorgsky.

Adrian Singers

The Adrian Singers under the direction of William Thomas have completed another successful concert year. An outgrowth of the Messengers who were organized in 1952, this chorus has sung for a large number of groups throughout Dubuqueland and nearby Iowa and Illinois communities.

Mr. William Thomas Director

In January the Adrian Singers made a tour in Northern Iowa and Southeastern South Dakota to sing both in churches and schools. After they returned home, they presented their third annual concert for the Dubuque community.

Chapel Choir

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Dr. Rosemary Clarke has provided choral music for college worship services throughout the year.

The choir was founded to assist the ministers in chapel worship services. Using anthems, hymns, and choral prayers, this group has achieved its purpose: singing to the glory of God.

At Monday morning chapel services the music of the Chapel Choir has introduced a more worshipful mood.

The Panhellenic Council is the co-ordinating body of the three University sororities. Composed of the sorority presidents, vice-presidents, and representatives, this group works to maintain high social standards on our campus.

In order to acquaint new students with the sororities at Dubuque, Panhellenic gave a fall tea in the Jacob Conzett Lounge. This group is busiest in the spring when it organizes rushing and pledging activities. At this time rules for rushing, pledging and initiation are set up and during an orientation period are explained to all eligible University women. Following rushing, Panhellenic works with the Inter-Fraternity Council in planning the Presentation Dance.

The Gammas first social activity for the year, a closed party, was a hayride for members and their dates. At Christmas time the sorority went caroling at Finley Hospital. Before the holiday season, too, they presented a radio play over KUDD. During final week, the Gammas again held "Snack Time" for the hungry men in Steffens Hall. After initiating eight girls into the sorority, the group looked forward to Flunk Weekend to close their year's activities.

Fall and spring rushing added nineteen new members to the Zeta Phi Sorority, making it the largest on the campus. For the Homecoming parade the Zeta float, constructed in an Alice-in-Wonderland theme, was awarded second prize. During the late fall Zetas and their dates enjoyed a Bohemian party at Datisman's cabin. Among their many activities the sorority included also a flapper party. Mrs. Parvis Mahmoud, Mrs. James E. Carver, and Mrs. Leon Richardson, all newcomers to the campus, have been selected as honoraries.

Academic Year Opens

In September the academic year opened officially at the All-University Convocation. Ed Manning, President of the Seminary Brotherhood, and Ben Tate, President of the Student Senate, led the academic procession and the service which recognized the incoming freshmen of the college and the juniors of the seminary. In keeping with a custom which originated in European schools, the freshmen were formally received as a class within the University academic program. Justice Fred Hall of the Kansas State Supreme Court addressed the students and faculty. Following the convocation, the University held a reception in the Jacob Conzett Lounge to help the students and faculty become better acquainted.

During the investiture of the class of 1958 four years ago, Norm Stenzel and Lois Fox, representing the freshmen, received the caps and gowns from the upper classmen.

This year, Donna Sue Denton and Paul Middents, representing the class of 1961, received the caps and gowns during the investiture ceremony from seniors Lois Fox and Norm Stenzel.

Alumni Activities

Under the able direction of Woody Busse, Alumni Secretary, the Alums experienced another successful Homecoming. The weekend gave them opportunity to meet old classmates and professors and to become re-acquainted with the Dubuque campus. Friday night the Alums attended class reunions at various homes. Saturday was another busy day with the Alumni Luncheon on the quadrangle, the ever thrilling Homecoming football game, and the smorgasbord. Colonel Johnson, class of 1934, presented the banquet address.

Marge Kremer makes a last-minute inspection of the Homecoming Smorgasbord.

Dr. Louis Evans

In his three messages, "Your Religion—Fog or Faith," "Your Conscience—Courage or Cowardice," and "Your Marriage—Duel or Duet," Dr. Evans spoke about areas which are of concern to all thinking college students. He emphasized the need for tremendous strength among the followers of Christ by calling upon those who are today most equipped to be courageous. The educated young men and women from our Christian colleges, must meet the challenge of building a strong and lasting religion in a modern world.

Faith and Life Week

This November, Dr. Louis Evans of Hollywood, California, a man once termed the "jet-age circuit rider," flew to Dubuque to lead a week of religious emphasis. This week, known as Faith and Life Week, is designed to revive or revitalize the religious faith of the individuals within our campus community.

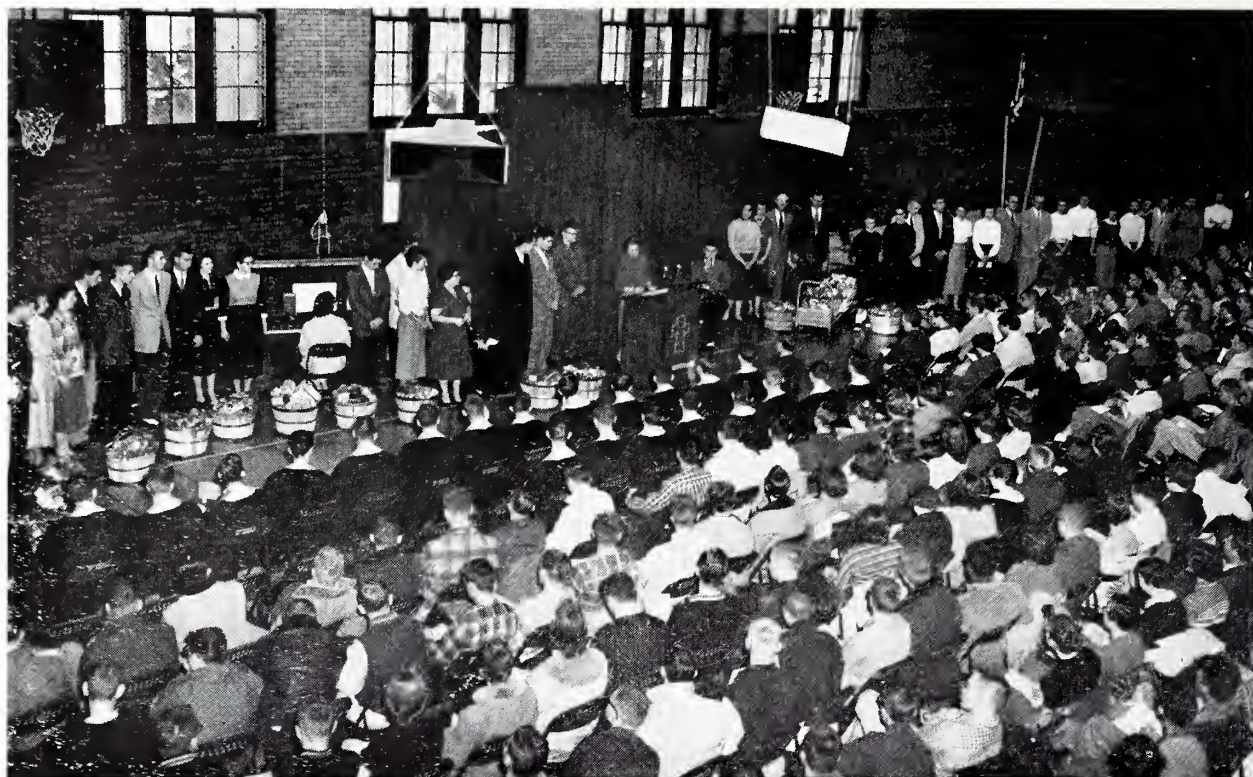

Spending a busy four days at Dubuque, Dr. Evans presented three formal messages at all-school convocations, conducted informal student discussions in both Steffens and Severance Dormitories, and personally counseled with individual University students. In accordance with student interest the formal messages and discussions were directed toward enlarging our appreciation for an active and significant Christian life.

Thanksgiving

In order to help the Dubuque community and to foster civic responsibility among the students, the Student Christian Association sponsors the giving of baskets of food to needy Dubuque families at Thanksgiving.

Every year almost every organization on campus presents a basket at the Thanksgiving convocation. Following the convocation the SCA members are responsible for distributing the food.

John Neve, Judy LaFrombois and Harold Rust, SCA members, decide how they will distribute the baskets of food.

The 1957 season record tells the story of injuries, Asian flu, staff illness, and plain bad luck. It does not tell the story of hard-fought games, of near-upsets, of the loyalty of team veterans and eager freshmen who refused to quit fighting. There have been better seasons in the past. There will be better seasons ahead for "Moco" Mercer and his gridmen.

Season

The Kickoff of the first home game of the season

Dubuque bowed 38-0 before a highly rated Simpson team at the opening game of the season at Indianola. Dubuque's offense failed to get under way all night, though the Spartans punched to the Simpson four-yard line on one series of plays. The Spartans defense managed to check the hard-driving Redmen in the third stanza, but bogged down again in the fourth period.

The Spartans played their first home game against a veteran Luther team rated as top contender for conference title. A brilliant defense held the Norsemen to a 7-6 lead at the half. Rathje's 53-yard pass to Rodger set up the only touchdown scored by the Spartans. However, in the fourth quarter, the defense crumbled and left the Norsemen with a 27-6 victory.

With a 59-0 victory over Iowa Wesleyan under their belts, Parsons' Wildcats invaded Chalmers Field to take on the Spartans, only to find themselves, when the final whistle blew, with a scoreless tie. Center Bill Parish proved to be U.D.'s defensive mainstay, intercepting two passes and repeatedly stopping the Parsons offense.

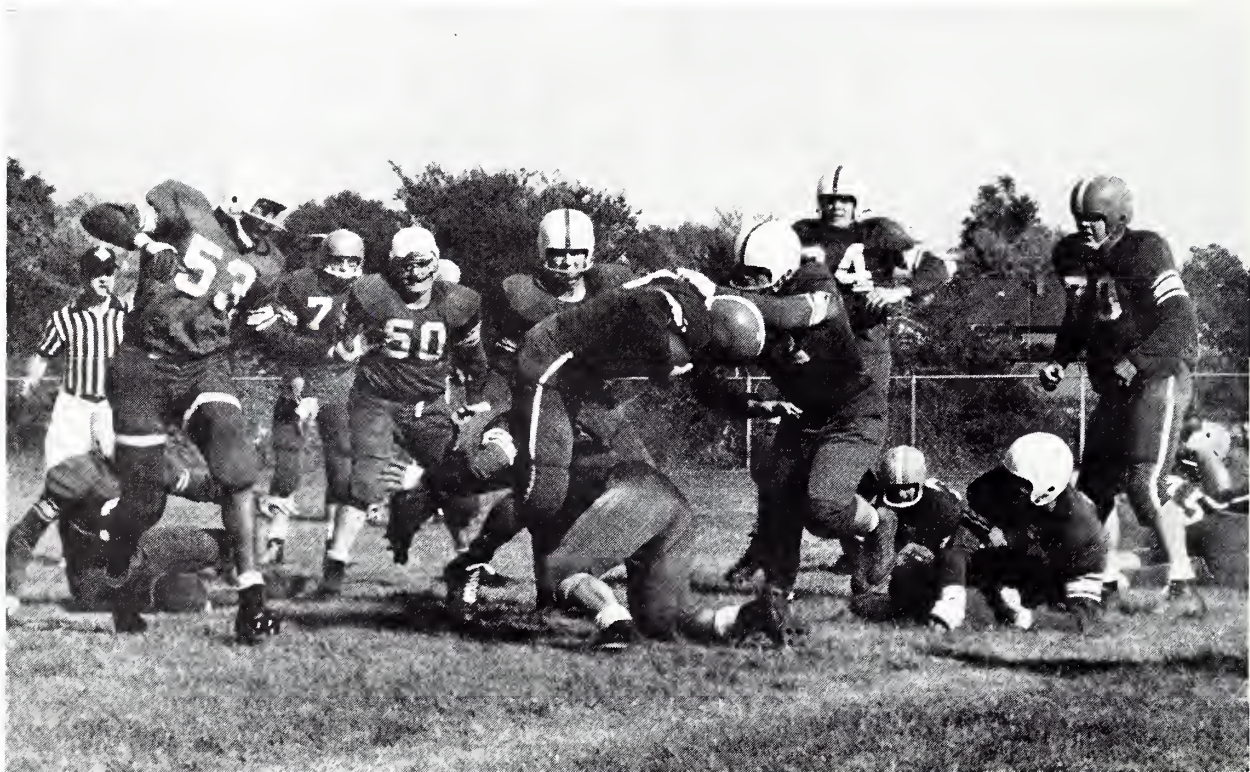

The Spartan squad comes in through an aisle of cheering students.

The heartbreak game of the season was played on a dusty autumn field at Fayette when Upper Iowa downed the Spartans 13-9. Three times in the first half the Spartans drove inside the Peacocks ten-yard line only to lose the ball on downs. The first score came in the third period on a 26-yard pass from Don Klein to Darrell Rodger. Four minutes later freshman Skip Snooks kicked a field goal to give the Spartans a 9-7 lead. Upper Iowa's famed Terry Stevens, accumulating 261 yards on the ground and in the air, rolled on to score the TD that gave the Peacocks the victory. Another pass to McGregor set the ball on the Peacock's three-yard line, where the Spartans were penalized 15 yards for having an off-field player below the 30-yard line. No victory was ever nearer yet farther away.

A flu-ridden squad, plagued by injuries, decided only 24 hours before gametime not to cancel their tilt with Buena Vista and B.V. and rolled to a 14-0 victory before a large homecoming crowd at Chalmers Field. The Spartans were on their own 30-yard line when Klein tossed a 45-yard pass to McGregor who hauled the ball to the B.V. seven-yard line before being brought down.

Look out fellows, here comes Rathje!

Rathje goes down as the Parsons Wildcats close in.

Spartans in action

Seven senior veterans—Bill Parish, Ray Spielman, Ed Donaldson, Darrell Rodger, Dave Travis, Norm Stenzel and Norm Rathje—led the Spartans to their only victory of the season at their last home game, on November 2, against Iowa Wesleyan. Through a steady rain, the Spartans fought off all threats by the Tigers. Playing one of the great games of his four-year career, and the last on his home field, Norm Rathje carried the ball 21 times, rolled up 92 of Dubuque's total of 138 yards rushing, made half of the Spartans' first downs, and crashed through right tackle for 10 yards for the only touchdown of the game. A safety gave the visitors their only score and left the Spartans with a 6-2 victory.

A fourth quarter field goal attempt failed after a hard-fought game against Central at Pella. The second scoreless tie of the season gave the Spartans possession of the bell for which they and the Dutchmen contend each year.

Sievers and Klein proudly show the victory bell, which we won from Central, to Rathje, N. Denton and Rodger.

Bill Parish and Norm Rathje

The 1958 Key pays special tribute to two of the University's top football aces—Norm Rathje and Bill Parish. For four years both of these players were mainstays of the Spartan squad. As offensive fullback, defensive linebacker, tackle and guard, Rathje is ranked by "Moco" Mercer as among the top four players of his 19 years at Dubuque. Twice named conference fullback, Rathje will long be remembered for his indomitable courage and performance on the gridiron. Parish, another of Moco's 60-minute men, played regular center for four years. He was given belated recognition by being named to the second all-conference team his senior year. Always a hard worker, Parish rates high among Dubuque's football "greats."

1958 Basketball Season

Basketball Coaches: Leon Richardson and Paul Brown

Coach Leon Richardson began his first year as Spartan basketball coach with only three returning lettermen. The large group of freshmen who turned out could not compensate for lack of experience and particularly for lack of height on the squad. Throughout the season the Spartans were outclassed by their conference opponents in both categories. Nevertheless, the fighting spirit and the high quality of ball playing was attested by observers throughout the season and was strikingly evidenced by the enthusiastic support the student body gave the team at its home games. Although Dubuque's final record for the 1957-58 season stands at 3 wins and 17 defeats, a much better season is expected next year. The return of experienced players, new acquisitions, and Coach Richardson's conscientious coaching should place the Spartans well up in the 1958-59 Iowa Conference standings.

One ball — six hands'

The opening game of the season found the Spartans at Platteville Teachers, who eventually won the Wisconsin State College Conference. After keeping on the heels of Platteville most of the game, the Spartans finally wilted, and lost by a 83-62 margin. Captain Bruce Meriwether led Dubuque with twenty points.

On December 6, the Spartans played their conference opener against Parsons, and registered a neat 73-51 triumph. Meriwether again showed the way for Dubuque by tallying twenty-two points.

Wartburg invaded McCormick Gym in the next Spartans' encounter, and inflicted a 72-63 defeat on the Blue and White ball-club. This loss marked the first in a string of six straight losses. Simpson, Central, Upper Iowa, Platteville Teachers, and Luther all hung defeats on Dubuque before the Spartans could manage their second victory of the campaign against Platteville Tech on January 14.

In the Luther game, Senior Jim Alsip registered the individual scoring high for the season by tallying 26 points, 21 of which were scored in the second half.

After Dubuque's 80-49 win over Platteville Tech, Buena Vista dealt the Spartans their eighth defeat of the year with a 77-61 margin. Freshman Ken Gore led the Dubuque attack with eighteen markers.

The Iowa Wesleyan game on February 1 marked the addition to the squad of two members of the "B" team, Dick Book and Bill Lindsay. This was not enough, however, to keep the Spartans from suffering their tenth defeat of the campaign 56-47. Gore was again high scorer for Dubuque with twelve points, with Jensen, Harken, and Book doing terrific work on rebounds.

On February third, the Blue and White team won their third and final game of the season, making Platteville Tech the victim. Gore poured twenty-three points through the hoop to pace the 78-38 rout.

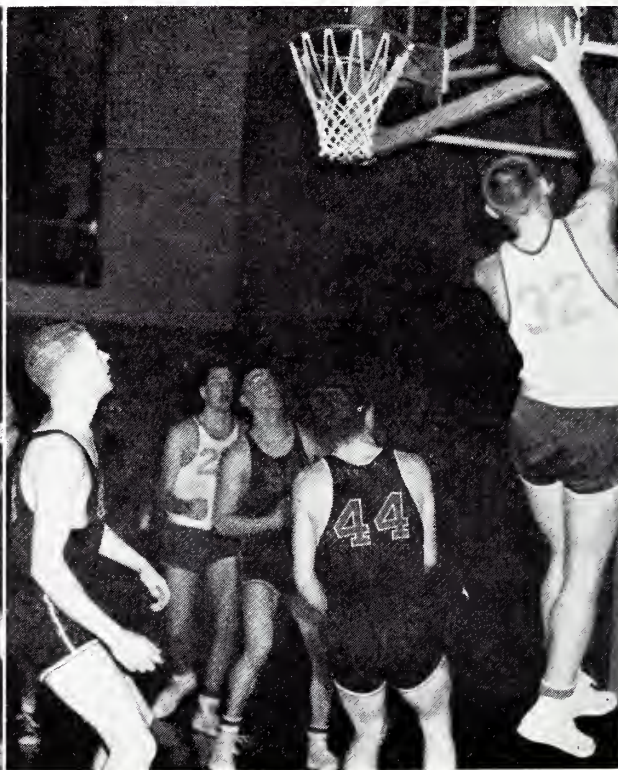

February 7 brought Simpson College to Dubuque in an Iowa Conference clash. Despite repeated Dubuque efforts to win, the Redmen won the game in the last seven seconds on a field goal. This game marked the beginning of another string of defeats for the Spartans that ended with seven in the final game of the year, when Buena Vista took the Spartans into camp with a 61-55 score.

Junior Varsity Squad

This year the Junior Varsity Squad, under the capable leadership of Coach Paul Brown, enjoyed one of the most successful seasons on record.

The team, composed of freshmen with the exceptions of Marvin Stewart and Bob Hurlburt, displayed amazing ability all season long. Never once did they show a lack of experience or demonstrate inferior ball playing. This easily explains their record of thirteen wins and two losses.

The season was highlighted by a narrow but well deserved victory over the Cedar Rapids Sanitary Dairy Team and the revenge victory over Upper Iowa University.

Members of the J.V. squad were Dave Lock, Dan Lock, Marvin Stewart, Richard Friedmann, Bob Hurlburt, Bob Allen, Kendal Adams, Kerwin Strasser, Stan Gustas, and Tom Buelow.

With 6-1 Record

Harrison reverses again

Once again, Mercer's matmen turned in a commendable season's record of 6-1, and also won an invitational tournament at Knox. Even with the loss of three regulars due to transfer, ineligibility and injury, Dubuque's tightclads kept their reputation as one of the strongest independent Midwest wrestling teams. Having grappled with teams from Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Missouri, Moc Mercer has guided his men to 22 wins with only 4 losses during the last three years.

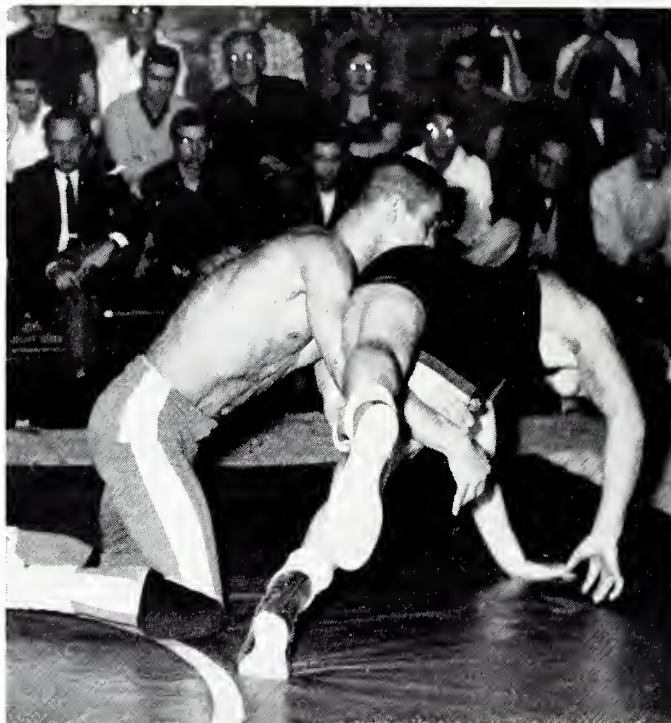

Rathje pits his strength as well as his skill against his Wartburg opponent

Starting the season with the highest score ever recorded on University of Dubuque wrestling books, UD grapplers handed Upper Iowa a 34-0 loss. Falls were scored by Bill Harrison, Freddie Evans, Ed Ortell, Norm Rathje, and Dale Kohler.

Coming from behind, 11-2, the Spartans beat Winona State Teachers 15-11 at Winona, Minnesota. Marching onward, the Spartans rolled over Upper Iowa 28-7. Bruce Sayers, Norm Rathje, and Skip Snook remained undefeated.

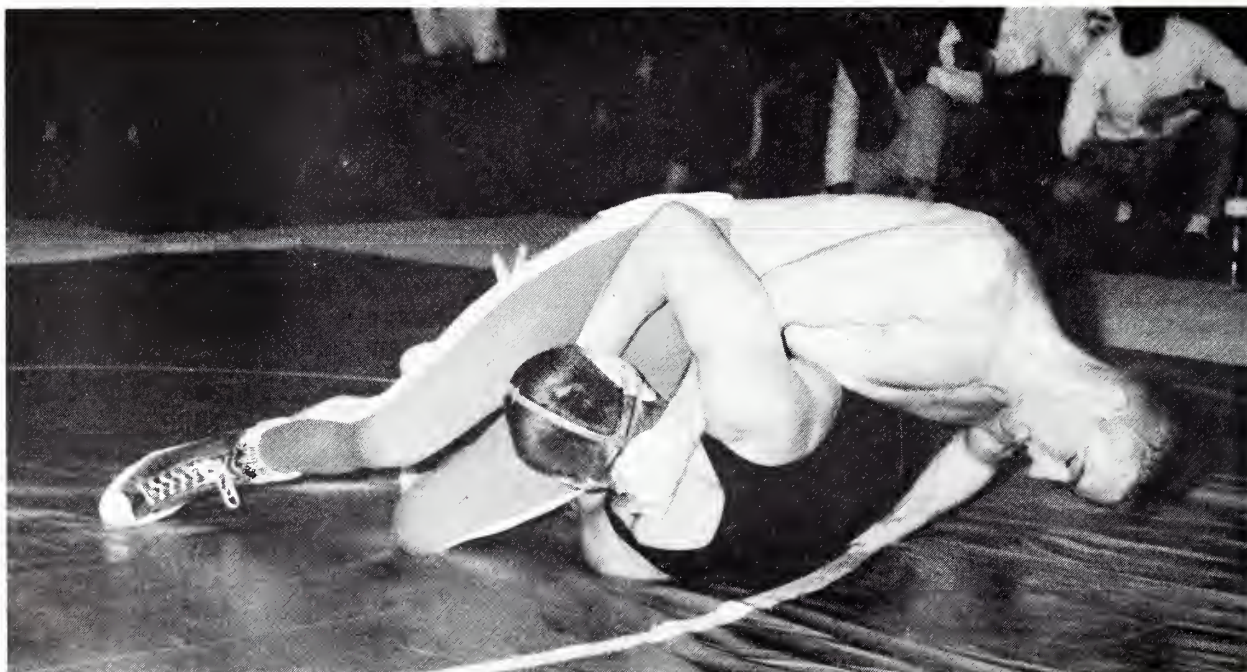

Unfortunately, the squad lost Bruce Sayers due to a knee injury just before meeting Wartburg. Dale Kohler and Skip Snook also left the team. With the loss of three varsity members, Moc Mercer once again did the improbable, if not impossible, by producing a winning team and Dubuque triumphed 18-12 over a strong Wartburg team.

At the Knox Invitational the Mercermen ran away with the team championship. Seven out of eight matmen went into the finals to produce a winning score of 35 points for Dubuque. Bob Funk, Karl Schwenk, Pic Nielsen, and Norm Rathje each brought home a championship. Freddie Evans, Ed Ortell and Don Carten each copped a second place.

Ortell forces his opponent's shoulders to the mat for a pin.

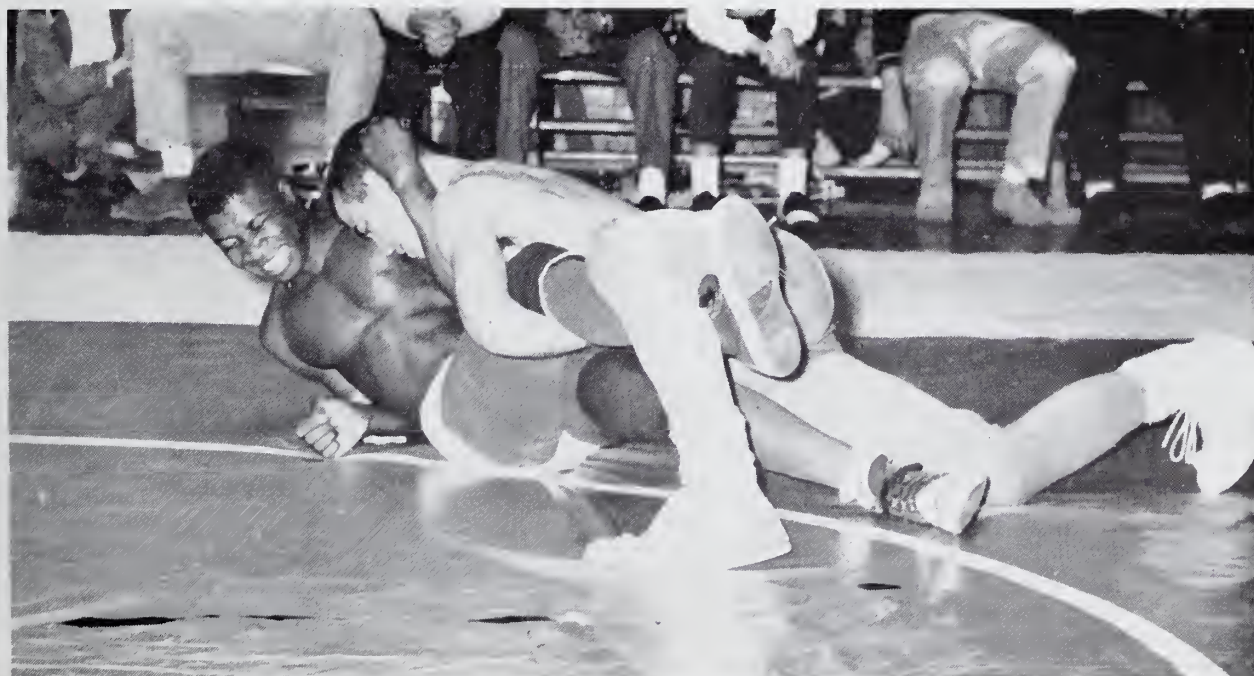

Sayers wraps up his Upper Iowa man.

Battling their old rival, Luther, to a 17-16 win, the Spartans gained their sixth straight victory in a thrilling home match. This gave the wrestling team a 6-0 record. It should be noted that the men who filled the holes in the Spartan line-up did a splendid job in keeping the lead set by the veteran wrestlers.

The jinx again struck the Dubuque team as they were edged 15-11 by an undefeated Augustana team. The only team member with an undefeated season, Captain Norm Rathje ended his career with a win by a decision. As the season closed the matmen had scored 159 points to their opponents 86, and held a laudatory 6-1 record.

Displaying the usual competitive spirit, which is symbolic of Dubuque's thinclads, the cindermen, coached by "Moco" Mercer, once again enjoyed a remarkable and a somewhat successful season.

The Spartans participated in three dual meets, six relays and the Iowa Conference meet. They won one of the three dual meets, losing in the other two to a very strong Iowa State Teachers team and to Luther. They won the Pella Relays, placed second in the Elmhurst Relays, and fourth in the North Central Relays. The Spartans entered only individuals in the other relays where an over-all team score was not calculated.

Relay team — Hansen, Cherrington, Collins and Bowling.

Harbrecht passes the baton to Collins.

Luther College obliterated two of the Spartans' most cherished records during the 1957 track season. The first blemish resulted from a 60 $\frac{2}{3}$ to 40 $\frac{2}{3}$ triumph over the Spartans in a dual meet. This was the first outdoor dual-meet defeat for the Spartans in seven years. The second blemish, which was even more painful than the first, occurred when the Spartans lost the Conference meet by a score of 64-63 to Luther. This was the first time in six years that another school won this important meet.

The Spartans were captained by Roosevelt Harvey, who displayed his ability as a leader by setting a record in the two mile race. This record is an Elmhurst Relays record and a U of D school record. Other outstanding Spartans who demonstrated their worth in meet after meet before terminating their college track careers were Ray Harbrecht, Richard Duty, Daniel Hansen, and Paul Brown.

Members of the track squad discuss their probable season record.

Although several keymen of the 1957 track squad were lost through graduation, Dubuque cindermen have almost as much potential as last year.

Paradoxically enough, the Spartan squad's reputation still works against them. This season, as last season, Coach Moc Mercer has had a difficult time scheduling opponents. The school prestige, despite last year's conference setback, is still formidable.

In their first meets of the season, Dubuque trounced Coe, took a fifth in the North Central Relays, and a second in the Iowa State Teachers Relays. In their first dual meet the Spartan cindermen lived up to their reputation and triumphed over Wartburg.

Gary Kempthorne and Juris Terauds have already set records in the high jump and javelin, respectively. If the whole season continues according to early reports, Dubuque is rebounding strongly from the poorer showings of last year.

Tennis Squad: Lee Stevens, Richard Swartzbaugh, Hans Schwantje, and Bob Bullard.

TENNIS TEAM

With an energetic nucleus from last year's surprisingly strong team, Coach C. T. Peterson hopes for a winning team this year.

Bob Bullard and Lee Stevens, Dubuque's two out-standing tennis players of last season, Richard Swartzbaugh, a highly rated freshman, and the returning lettermen, Bill Parish, Han Schwantje, and John Kudron compose the Spartan tennis team.

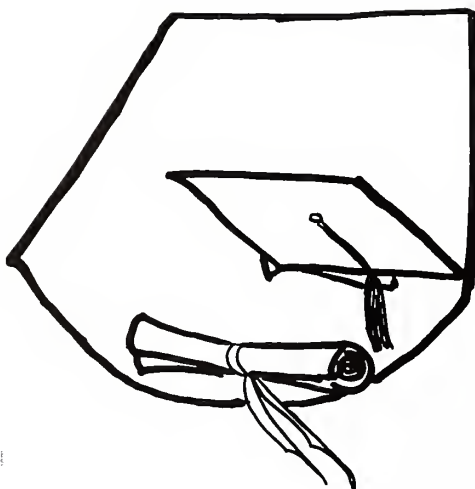

GOLF TEAM

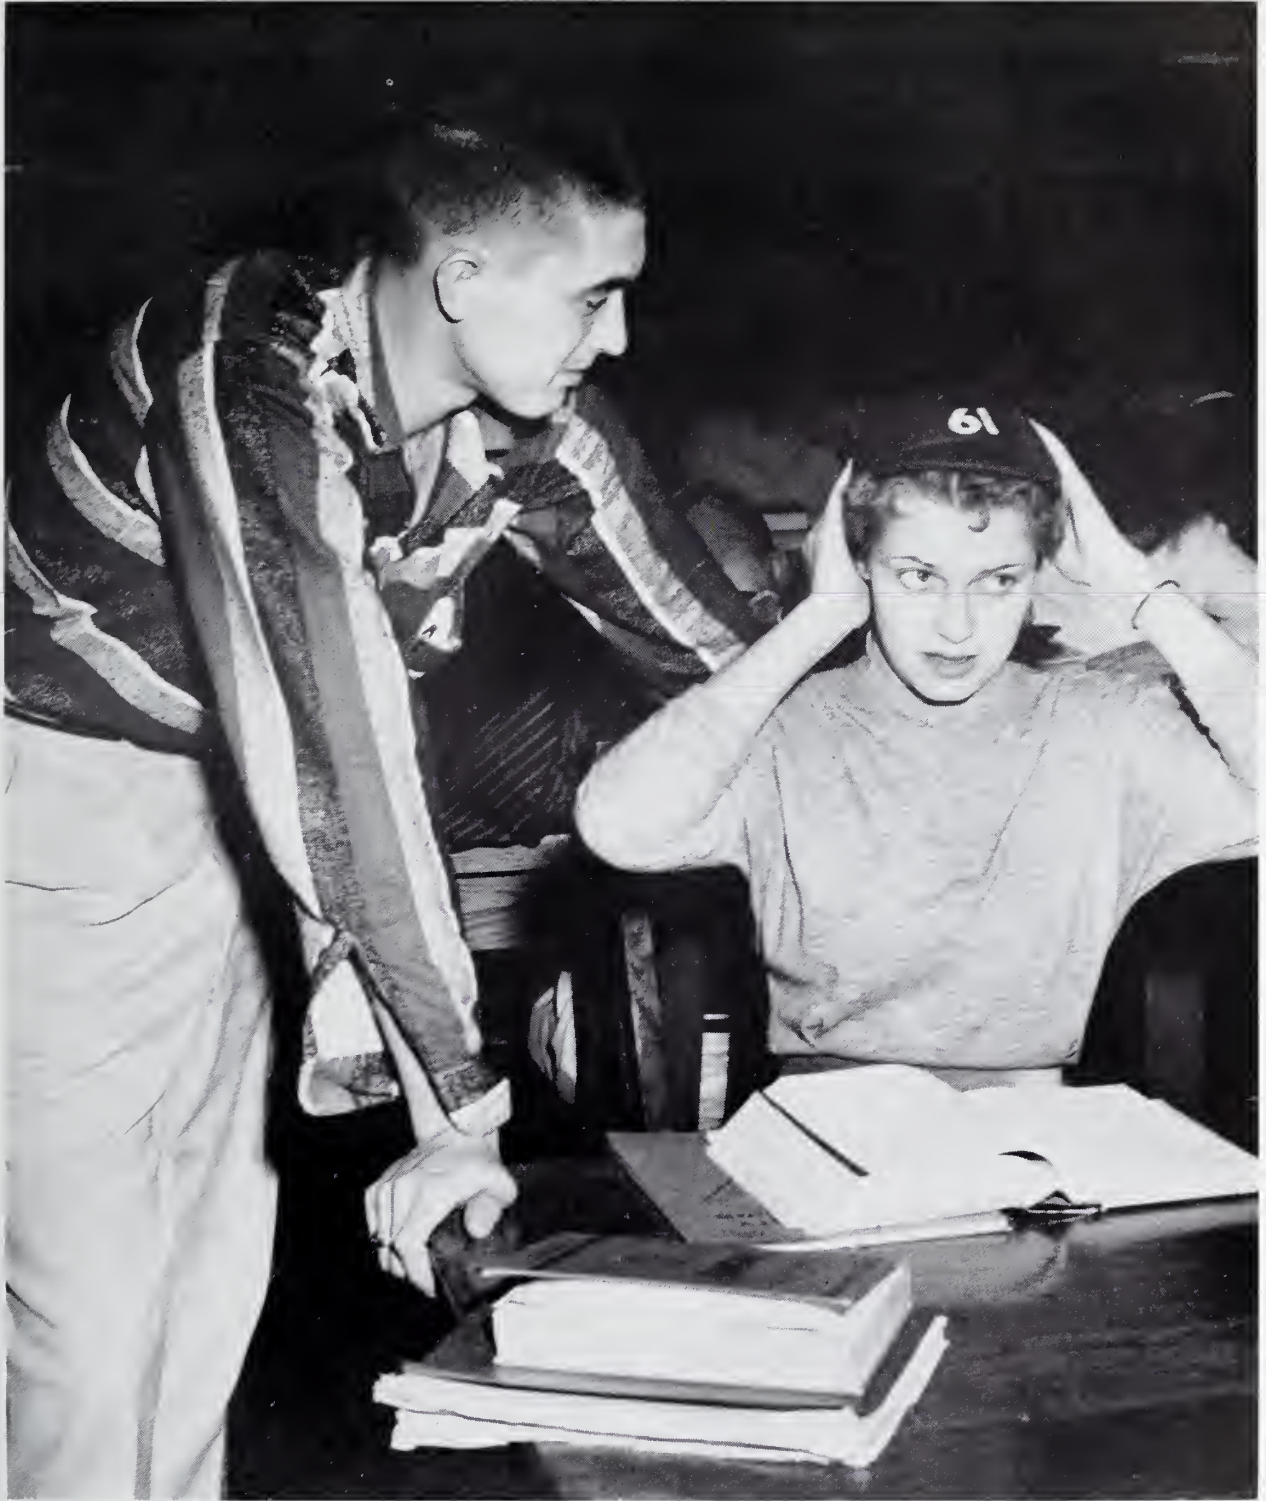

Last spring Dubuque's golf team, coached by Dr. Sylvan Jaenke, enjoyed a number of victories, including the conference championship. This spring, with the loss of Bob Barnes, Dave Zollars, and Brooks Burkhart, Dr. Jaenke's linksmen are hard pressed for replacements.

The power of this year's team is found in Ken Gordon and George Weitzel, who form a one two punch that is capable, with a little help, of duplicating last season's success.
